

Revamp Income Levy For New Try In Senate

LANSING (AP) — The Senate Taxation Committee chairman says he may try again this week for a favorable Senate vote on a new version of Gov. Romney's state income tax package.

"If we can get everybody together, we could be off and running—like the Kentucky Derby," said Sen. Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek.

DeMaso said he will not wait for any possible new House action on the tax package. The tax issue now has been taken over the hurdles in both houses and failed in both.

"I'm happy to see the issue still alive in the House though," DeMaso added.

The Romney tax package, tied to a 2½ per cent state income tax, was defeated on a 14-23 vote in the Senate five weeks ago.

Bipartisan Venture
"Maybe we pushed too fast the first time," DeMaso said.

He said he had hopes for success the second try because the new Senate version of the tax package "is being worked on as a bipartisan venture."

DeMaso emphasized that the proposed new tax package is not yet in its final form.

The chairman said he expected Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, a member of the taxation committee, back today. Young has been hospitalized for a week.

His first step, DeMaso said, will be to call another meeting of his taxation committee today.

If the committee agrees on the tax package, he then will submit it to the Republican and Democratic caucuses.

DeMaso was asked if another vote try is possible this week. "If the people (in both caucuses) agree on the package we want, nothing is impossible," he said.

"The longer we drag our heels, the greater the problem grows. We've got to face realities sooner or later."

Break For Renters

DeMaso said, however, he would not bring the tax package out of committee until he is sure he has the 20 votes needed to pass it.

In addition to the 2½ per cent personal income tax levy, it was indicated the package would include:

—An exemption for renters, probably 25 per cent, as the equivalent of the property tax exemption.

—A deduction of one-half the city income tax for those now paying the city levy.

—A credit for sales tax payments to be applied on the state income tax.

—A higher proportion of the tax levy to be imposed on business, to satisfy Democratic demands.

Buffalo Raid Catches Cosa Nostra Leaders

Dinner Meet Like Apalachin In '57 Netted

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Three police agencies broke up a stag wedding dinner Monday night and arrested 36 men, including six identified at government hearings as connected with the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate, but a judge today dismissed the charges.

One was rearrested several minutes after the court action in a corridor outside the courtroom when he allegedly kicked a photographer.

Judge James E. Kane Jr. of City Court granted a defense motion for dismissal of charges that the 36 allegedly consorted with known criminals. The defense argued that the information, drawn from their arrests, failed to state an intent to provoke a breach of peace.

While Buffalo police said the dinner appeared to be entirely social, to honor Joseph Todaro, 43, because he is scheduled to be married soon, the FBI said in Washington that the gathering honored Todaro's elevation into the Cosa Nostra in this area. Todaro owns a restaurant near here.

Buffalo police also said they doubted crime organization was planned at the meeting, because so many people were present.

Accused Of Assault

The man charged after the incident with the photographer was Matthew Billiteri, 45, Buffalo, a laborer. He was accused of assault.

About 250 men were dining on roast beef and chicken in a first-floor banquet hall when 15 Buffalo detectives, 6 FBI agents and 2 members of the state Bureau of Criminal Investigation entered through an unlocked door.

Fifty others at the gathering, including those best known to police, were in a downstairs dining hall and slipped into a nearby liquor storeroom, locking the door behind them, police said.

They were not discovered until early today.

Investigators said some of the more prominent figures included:

Frederico G. Raneccio, 59, of Buffalo, reputed "underboss" to Stefano Magaddino, of nearby Lewiston. Magaddino, who has been identified at Senate crime hearings as a Cosa Nostra chief in western New York and the Ohio Valley, was not there.

James V. LaDuca, 55, of Lewiston, Magaddino's son-in-law and, police said, his representative at the gathering.

Joseph DiCarlo, 66, of Buffalo, who police said recently returned here from the Youngstown, Ohio, area.

Pasquale Matarrelli, 56, of Buffalo, described as associated with Magaddino and DiCarlo.

Romney Starting Finance Campaign

CLEVELAND (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney came to Cleveland Monday night in search of campaign funds for a probable presidential bid next year, he told newsmen.

Romney said in brief news conferences that his speech to the Fifty Club might help generate campaign donations.

"Some of those associated with me thought it might be helpful to them in raising and business leaders."

Michigan newsmen who have followed Romney's cross-country search for presidential support said it was the first time the governor has conceded he was seeking campaign dollars.

The Republican governor spoke, behind closed doors at a hotel, to 150 members and guests of the Fifty Club, a group of top civic, industrial and business leaders.

Romney was asked about Richard Nixon's statement Monday that if nominated by the GOP next year, the former vice president would win.

"Who am I to question Mr. Nixon?" Romney replied.

SPAD JOINS ROMNEY
DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney's growing political organization, gearing for a run on the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, pulled New York's state GOP chairman into its ranks Monday.

Carl Spad, 50, departed the $30,000-a-year New York post and joined Romney "with the understanding and approval" of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, praising Romney as an election winner and a man who would be good for the nation as president, said that in view of the importance of the 1968 elections "I cannot help but applaud Carl's decision."

Spad became New York Republican chairman in February 1965.

The Romney group attracted another aide last week from the opposite side of the nation — Travis Cross, a public relations expert who abandoned the job of press secretary to Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., who has been mentioned as a possible presidential candidate.

Romney's team also has plucked outstanding men from the organizations of other prominent Republicans.

—J. Clifford Folger, national finance chairman for Richard Nixon's unsuccessful presidential race in 1960.

—William Murphy, who was an executive aide to former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton.

—Hugh Morrow, a top speech writer for New York's Rockefeller.

—Leonard Hall, Republican national chairman for Carl Albert under President Dwight Eisenhower, has overhauled command of the Romney for President Committee.

Folger operates under the auspices of the committee, but his mission is to bring support for Romney in the East, where Nixon is thought to be strong.

Also functioning as a committee member is Max M. Fisher, a Detroit oilman and fundraiser who is in charge of finance.

Former Michigan Congressman Robert J. McIntosh works for Romney under Hall's direction in Washington.

Besides the committee, the Michigan chief executive has going for him a group known as Romney Associates, composed primarily of Michigan personalities.

Romney Associates operates in Lansing, about four blocks from Romney's office in the State Capitol. The Lansing group includes Romney's foreign policy brains, researchers, speech writers and public relations men.

U.S. Bomber Strikes Wipe Out MIG Base

SAIGON (AP) — Five U.S. attacks in two weeks have put the Hoa Lac MIG air base 20 miles west of Hanoi out of action, the U.S. Command announced today.

A spokesman said there was no evidence of MIG activity on the field when nine flights of U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs from Thailand plastered the field Monday for the fifth time since April 24.

U.S. planes flew 121 missions over North Vietnam Monday, and one Thunderchief was shot down, the spokesman said. The pilot was listed as missing in action. There was no indication whether the plane was lost during the raid on the Hoa Lac field.

The Thunderchief was the 535th U.S. combat plane reported lost to hostile action over North Vietnam.

Aid Marines
While the air war in the North increased in fury, U.S. B52 bombers blasted Communist positions within and below the demilitarized zone Monday night in a continuing campaign to ease the pressure on U.S. Marines and allied forces in the northernmost sector of South Vietnam.

"I would say the field at Hoa Lac is no longer operable," a U.S. spokesman said.

Air Force reports of Monday's raid said both ends of the hard-surface runway were pockmarked by 1,000-pound bombs, the center of the runway was blasted and the entire airfield site and surrounding MIG revetment heavily raked by shattering cluster bombs.

There are four big MIG bases in the Hanoi-Haiphong area. In addition to the Hoa Lac base, the base at Kep has been hit twice but the other two have not been attacked.

The eight-engine B52s unloaded about 500,000 pounds of bombs on suspected Red supply routes and bivouac areas in the northern half of the demilitarized zone and 11 miles north-west of Khe Sanh, just below the western end of the zone. From these areas North Vietnamese troops have made repeated attacks on U.S. Marine positions in recent weeks, and the area northwest of Khe Sanh has been hit repeatedly by the high-flying bombers.

No further fighting was reported around "Leatherneck Square," the area of four U.S. Marine outposts just south of the demilitarized zone where the Leathernecks drove off some 1,200 North Vietnamese who attacked the Con Thien camp Monday.

The U.S. Command made an upward revision of the casualty figures for both sides in the battle of Con Thien. The North Vietnamese toll increased to 197 dead, 18 more than previously announced. Allied casualties were put at 44 Marines killed, 140 U.S. troops wounded — most of them Marines — and 14 Vietnamese irregulars killed and 16 wounded. This increased the number of Marine dead by nine and the number of American wounded by 41.

Board To Talk Transportation

Transportation of students within the city limits of Escanaba once the new elementary schools are completed and ready for use this fall will be considered by the Escanaba Area Board of Education at its regular meeting at 8 p.m. today at the school administration building.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett listed the transportation question as one of 11 items for discussion after the action agenda of five items is completed.

Barrett said that although the Board has intended to discontinue in-city transportation of students once the new buildings are completed, questions have arisen regarding several areas of the city, particularly along M-35 between Sylvan Point and the city limits.

The Board is expected to take action on bids for new boiler burners at Soo Hill and Wells schools, administrative staffing for elementary buildings, and employment of new teachers.

Discussion items include the annual school election, new construction, safety at Wells and Soo Hill, summer program staffing, equipment for new buildings, subscriptions to board information service, a yearbook request, activity account and hot lunch reports.

Apostle Islands Lakeshore Wins Support - Nelson

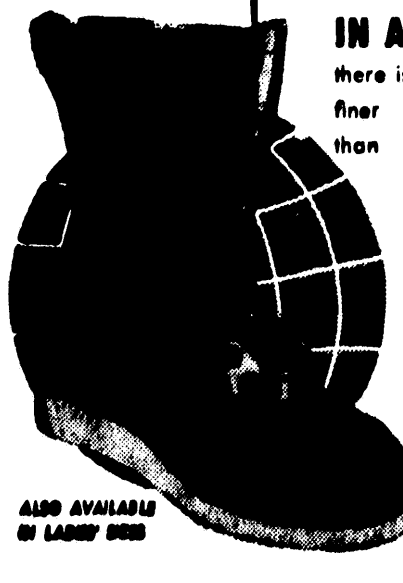

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., says the proposed Apostle Islands National Lakeshore in Wisconsin has won tremendous statewide support.

The bill would create a 57,500-acre national recreation area on Lake Superior in Ashland and Bayfield counties.

A Senate interior subcommittee conducts a hearing today. Business support for the bill, Nelson said, is especially strong because of the economic boost which it offers for Northern Wisconsin.

5 Ex-Governors At NMU May 22

Five former Michigan governors will be in Marquette on Monday, May 22, to help the area celebrate the government day program during Michigan Week.

Coming for the program, which will be highlighted by a dinner meeting at Northern Michigan University, will be former Govs. John B. Swainson, G. Mennen Williams, Harry F. Kelly, Murray D. Van Wagoner and Wilber M. Bruckner.

They will fly into Marquette at 6 p. m., May 22, on a special plane, and will go directly to Northern's University Center for the dinner program, which also will include participation by the mayor of Highland Park, Michael M. Glusac, on the mayor exchange program.

The announcement was made by Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of NMU, who also is 1967 Michigan Week chairman.

The public is invited to attend the dinner meeting at the University Center. Advance reservations may be made by writing Jerry Pullum, The Marquette Chamber of Commerce. Tickets are $3.50.

The former governors will be accompanied by Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken, who will be representing Gov. George Romney, and Neil Staebler, former congressman-at-large and former state Democratic Party chairman, who is Michigan Week government day chairman.

Another highlight of the dinner meeting at NMU will be the presentation of 20 paintings by Robert Thom, Birmingham, the artist commissioned by Michigan Bell Telephone Co., to Northern by Warren Alexander, Saginaw, Bell division manager, and Kenneth S. Hogg Jr., Marquette, district manager for Bell.

The 21st painting in the series, on Michigan's history and heritage, will be unveiled by the painter, who also will give a brief talk. The painting is of the upper harbor and Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad Co. ore dock in Marquette.

Thom was commissioned by Bell to do a series of paintings "to advance the knowledge of the state's colorful and exciting development".

Coast Guard Launch Safe

The U. S. Coast Guard 30-foot launch from Escanaba was back on standby alert today after being pulled from a sandbar Monday afternoon by a Plum Island, Wis., Coast Guard boat.

B. M. C. Donald Sothoron, commander of the Escanaba light station, said he and a crew member returned to Escanaba with the launch about 11:40 p.m. The only damage was a bent propeller, he said, but the boat is back in shape today.

The launch ran aground off Chippewa Point on the east side of the Stonington Peninsula Sunday night while enroute to assist a 27-foot cruiser which was aground near Nahma after being reported overdue enroute to Escanaba from Sturgeon Bay. Sothoron said the launch was on a sandbar 200 to 300 yards south of Chippewa Point. It was pulled off about 5:15 p.m. by the Plum Island boat.

The cruiser, owned by Harold Winchester, 600 S. 18th St. is still aground today, the Coast Guard said. Winchester and two other passengers were removed and put ashore. The Coast Guard said the cruiser would be refloated by a commercial firm.

Good News-- The Partridge Drum!

By BOB VOGES
LANSING (AP) — Partridge are starting to drum up north, a sound similar to subdued thunder that has puzzled many who have heard the noise but never spotted the birds in their courtship dance.

The sound is good news to the conservation department and hunters. It means there will be good shooting this fall for partridge — more correctly termed ruffed grouse.

Conservation game experts use the noise as an indication of the number of birds nesting in the spring. Later on, a more accurate estimate will be made by the number of birds spotted by conservation men as they patrol regular routes.

The drumming sound is part of the courtship ritual of the male bird. The male also uses it to advertise to any possible competition that he has staked out his territory and selected a mate.

The drumming sound can be heard from as far as a quarter of a mile away.

Sounds Like Thunder

The bird finds a log, a mound of dirt or a flat stretch of earth. Then he beats his wings furiously to create the thunder-like sound.

"The bird props himself up on his tail—probably so he won't fall over backwards," observed George Ammann, of the game division.

Ammann recently returned from a field trip through Northern Michigan to check on game bird populations.

"The number of Sharp-tail Grouse seems to be down," he reported. "Very few were found on Drummond Island, one of the favorite hunting spots."

A shooting season on sharp-tails was allowed two years ago. No shooting was allowed last year. This year, Ammann said, it is "very doubtful" if they will be legal targets because of the apparent drop in numbers.

Woodcocks Abundant
The Sharp-tail Grouse are most numerous in the Upper Peninsula. They are found in only a few spots in the Northern Lower Peninsula, mostly on open plains or old burned over areas. Ammann had one cheerful report for hunters.

"Woodcocks are as abundant as ever," he said. "They are our pride and joy."

The game division, he said, probably will recommend an earlier season on woodcock this year.

Federal regulations allow states to set a season of 50 days any time during its open season.

"We're going to push for an earlier season, because it would give hunters a considerable advantage," Ammann said. "It would allow the hunters to get a chance at the birds before they migrate out of our north country."

Mexico Police Shear Beatniks

ENSENADA, Mexico (AP) — About 20 long-haired beatniks from the United States were given what police in this Baja California town call manly jail treatment over the weekend. They were given haircuts.

The 20 were among 90 youths arrested in connection with public disturbances, police said. Thousands were in town for the Mexican Independence Day celebration and the finish of the Newport Beach-to-Ensenada yacht race.

"We told them they were men and so they should look like men, not women," said a police official. "So we gave them a clipping."

Defend POWs

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Society for the Defense of American Prisoners of War, organized in 1966 by four members of the Democratic party, has headquarters in Atlantic City.

Polite Bandit

DETROIT (AP) — A polite bandit robbed the Detroit Bank & Trust Co. of $800 Monday. Police said the man walked up and handed the teller a note which read:

"This is a holdup. Don't move, please."

The teller handed him the money and the man slowly walked out the door.

Modern Aids Give Garden Extra Boost

Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow?

If she's up to date, Mary probably makes it grow with scientifically-improved fertilizers, modern power equipment and a complete line of pest controls. Her secret is to be properly equipped for the job.

Modern gardening is a far cry from the blisters-and-backaches chore it was years ago. Today backyard gardeners can get just as much pleasure from their efforts as their grandparents, but with far less physical labor and better results.

Building Supply News points out there has been a quiet revolution in lawn and garden equipment and supplies. The result has vastly improved the lot of gardening enthusiasts.

Modern fertilizers, for example, are more effective, lighter and easier to handle, and freer from weeds. They also last longer.

Weed and insect control is infinitely easier, with easy-to-use chemicals specially developed for almost every conceivable lawn and garden problem.

Power tools have been introduced to handle most of the heavy work. With 25 million power mowers already in use, the industry expects another 5 per cent gain in 1967.

The big news in this field is the surprising popularity of tractor-type mowers, many of which collect clippings and leaves, trim along edges, and double as graders and snow removers. Sales of these units are expected to rise 25 per cent in 1967.

Building Supply News also reports that building supply supermarkets this year are stocked with more lawn carts, spreaders, sweepers, trash takers, power rakes and underground and traveling sprinkling systems, as well as a complete line of hand tools.

Eldest Andrews Sister Dies Of Cancer Monday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Laverne Andrews, eldest of the singing Andrews Sisters, died Monday of cancer. She had been ill for eight months. She was 51.

Her sisters, Maxene and Pat, learned of the death while they were fulfilling a nightclub engagement at Lake Tahoe, 500 miles to the north.

Laverne's husband of 18 years, Lou Rogers, a wholesale liquor dealer, was at his wife's bedside in their West Los Angeles home when she died. They had no children.

Carrying on the group's 35-year performing tradition, the younger sisters had appeared without Laverne for nearly a year.

Student Govt. At Gladstone Is Progressive

GLADSTONE — Meeting in regular session Monday evening after the Gladstone High School student Government Day takeover of the commission, the senior commissioners reported that they found their student counterparts very capable of handling city affairs.

In most cases the city commissioners concurred with statements made by the student commissioners, composed of Keith Olson, mayor; and Commissioners Donna Young, James Sargent, Patrick LaFave, and Joseph Lagina. John Burk acted as city manager; Jack Van Horn as city clerk; and Sharon Kamarainen as city attorney.

The low bid of Riverside Auto, Escanaba, for a police cruiser in amount of $2,305 was accepted. Other bids were received from Northern Motors and Shrook Chevrolet.

Extend Bids
Since only one bid for the Industrial Park building repairs was received, the opening day was extended to May 22.

Both commissions agreed to hold a public hearing at the next meeting on sanitary sewers for N. 16th St.

Stanley Petrovitch, a N. 16th St. resident, asked why a shallow sewer could not be installed in the area since homes do not have basements. City Manager H. J. Henrickson said the master plan for the city calls for a standard depth and he would not like to see the city deviate from this plan. Petrovitch maintained that the installation cost on N. 16th St. should not be as high as that being considered for N. 17th St. sewers.

Study Request

The request of Raymond Bero on behalf of the Gladstone Yacht Club for improvements to the launching dock, the continuation of 11th St. across the lagoon to the docking area, and the graveling of the parking area was tabled for further consideration.

City Attorney Clair Hoehn questioned the advisability of tying up city crews in the Yacht Club area when the street work schedule is so heavy.

After hearing a communication from UPCA regarding area industrial planning, the suggestion was tabled until more detailed information could be obtained. Similar action was taken on proposal for a senior citizens center for retired persons, combining Escanaba, Gladstone and Rapid River activities in this field.

Blacktop Bids

Bids for blacktopping streets will be re-advertised since engineers' figures were not received until last Friday and information for bidders was not available until then. These bids will be three-fold: a separate bid for blacktopping city streets already prepared; one for blacktopping Delta Ave., and one combining the two projects.

The commission considered passage of an ordinance to permit participation in State Police training programs for city policemen. A public hearing will be held at the next meeting, May 22.

In other business the commission set June 1 as deadline for all vacant lots in the city, excluding acreage, to be cleaned. If the work has not been done it will be done by the city and costs assessed against the properties.

Cleanup Warning

Action was taken to discontinue services if utility bills are not paid within 90 days after they become due.

Earl Paquin of Flat Rock, who has been crushing gravel for the city, reported crushing work would be completed today and the city commission accepted his offer to trade 1,000 yards of crushed gravel for the city-owned crusher, which is no longer being used. Paquin said he could use the crusher for parts.

John Sherman, student power plant superintendent, requested that the city purchase cooling tubes for the power plant and presented an excellent appeal for the purchase of bell end coolers. Both commissions agreed that the city should do this and a meeting was scheduled for this evening with power plant Supt. C. M. Sherman, who is John's father.

Keith Olson, student mayor, thanked the commission for its hospitality and cooperation and said that "the picture we have received of city government is certainly worth more than 10,000 words and is one that we will never forget."

The commission entertained the student commission at dinner. Donald Anderson, Gladstone High School civic teacher was in charge of student government day.

Manned Apollo To Fly In '68

WASHINGTON (AP) — James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, announced today the first manned flight of the Apollo spacecraft will take place early next year.

He told the Senate Space Committee that North American Aviation, Inc., will continue as chief contractor under a new contract.

Webb named the three-man crew for the initial flight. They include Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and civilian Walter R. Cunningham and Maj. Donn F. Eisele of the Air Force.

These were the back up crew for the three astronauts who died in a fire on a launching pad at Cape Kennedy in January.

Webb said that a fireproofed new Apollo spacecraft had been designed, will be delivered to Cape Kennedy late this year and be launched three months later.

He said most of the combustible materials that were involved in the January tragedy will be replaced and that piping and wiring will be improved.

Webb indicated NASA still hopes to land an American astronaut on the moon toward the end of 1969.

And he said the total cost of the lunar landing project should be within a $22.7-billion estimate.

Hall Of Fame

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Opera singer Eileen Farrell, baseball umpire Hank Soar and film star Ruth Hussey are among the recently inducted members of the Rhode Island Heritage Hall of Fame.

Induction and $500 million may be incurred.

Webb said changes will be made in NASA's pattern of Apollo contracting.

Peltin Home Called Unique

Mr. and Mrs. Max J. Peltin of Madison, Wis., are the subject of an illustrated feature in a recent Milwaukee Journal story describing the Peltin's "expanded Cape Cod home."

Max is the brother of Ben Peltin of 1211 S. 15th St., Escanaba. He is a graduate of Escanaba High School, is an attorney and appellate examiner for the State of Wisconsin, and enjoys his wife's hobbies of collecting early American antiques.

The Peltins bought their small Cape Cod cottage 20 years ago, and the house has expanded through the years into an adjoining lot, which they had the foresight to purchase.

Mrs. Peltin in those 20 years has: Braided 16 rugs, all by hand and all originals; filled seven rooms with 87 pieces of refinished furniture, some of it rare and some priceless.

One of the most prized pieces of furniture is a Wells Fargo desk, which still carries the date of April 2, 1878, in the drawer.

The Peltins entertain in their "summer living room" where they can seat 28 at two large tables for dinner. All of the old pieces of furniture are sturdy and useful—and used.

Army Asked To Clear Name Of Custer's Aide

NEW YORK (AP) — A chance meeting in a Manhattan bar has led Charles Reno to ask the Army to replay the Battle of the Little Big Horn and clear the name of a cashiered ancestor who fought there with Col. George A. Custer in the famous "last stand."

Reno appeared before the Army Board for the Correction of Military Records in Washington Wednesday to request that it restore full rank and honors to his great-granduncle, Maj. Marcus A. Reno.

Though cleared by a court of inquiry of any blame for the massacre of Custer's forces, the major was cashiered four years after the battle as a drunkard and brawler. The board was told this stemmed mainly from a political and military controversy following the massacre.

Reno said the affair was "a skeleton in the family closet, so to speak," down the years and not a subject the relatives discussed. "In the old West, the Custer-Reno conflict flew high wide and handsome," he said.

Chance Meeting Last fall he had a chance meeting with George Walton, a retired Army colonel from Wrightsville, N.C., who had studied the major's case for five years and was convinced he had been unjustly treated.

"Col. Walton was in New York to do some research and was supposed to stay at a hotel, but something happened to his reservation," Reno recalled.

Instead, the colonel ended up staying at the Manhattan motel where Reno, a resident of Jackson Heights, Queens, works as a bartender. Walter heard someone address Reno by name and introduced himself.

Reno learned his ancestor had a small coterie of advocates but that a plea to clear his name had to be made by a relative.

Writing Book Walton also told Reno about his book that seeks to exonerate the major, titled, "Faint the Trumpet Sounds."

"The next morning I went out and bought the book and read it through," said Reno. He sent a copy to his sister and together they decided to see whether "today, justice could be achieved."

He applied to the five-man civilian panel and it ordered a record prepared by the Army. This showed that Custer, in pursuit of Sioux Indians led by Sitting Bull, split his 7th Cavalry Regiment into three battalions.

Reno was sent across the Little Big Horn River to attack a village. Custer pushed ahead into a vastly superior Indian force and none of his men emerged alive.

Maj. Reno's group suffered heavy casualties but was able to hold out until relief arrived two days later.

Cowardice Charged Walton told the board that Reno became an unpopular figure as a result of a "big lie" which unfairly accused Reno of cowardice in failing to come to Custer's aid.

As a result, the board was told, when Reno was later court-martialed on charges of brawling and drunkenness—each with an incident involving a woman—President Rutherford B. Hayes upheld a recommendation that he be dishonorably discharged.

The board probably will make a recommendation to the secretary of the Army on whether to restore the major's rank and permit the American Legion in Montana to move his body from an unmarked Washington grave to the Custer National Cemetery at the battlefield.

LBJ Bootmaker

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sam Lucchese, who said he is President Johnson's bootmaker, says the President has complained that his shoes are too tight but Lucchese thinks they may be too big, failing to give proper arch support and resulting in "a burning sensation on the bottom of his feet."

CHARLES RENO, right, of Jackson Heights, N. Y., asked the Board for the Correction of Military Records to clear the name of his great-grand uncle, Maj. Marcus Reno, of blame in the Battle of Little Big Horn. Major Reno was court-martialed and dishonorably dismissed from the service after the 1876 battle which is known as "Custer's last stand." Home Improvement Faces Record Decade Of Growth

By MONTE CARPENTER

Home Improvement Council

Recent statistics indicate that home improvement has its biggest opportunity for growth this next decade. More than $13 billion is spent for home improvement yearly. And, it is estimated that expenditures can reach a figure of $20 billion annually within the next 5 years.

For example, a survey has revealed that 7 out of 10 persons would rather not move from their present homes. The reasons given vary. A move to another house can be a highly expensive project. Some families moving to new neighborhoods report a loss of feeling of security that affects the family welfare.

If these facts tend to refute the popular notion that America is a land of people constantly on the move, they point up the opportunity for Americans to live better, healthier, happier lives by fixing up their homes.

This year more than $13 billion will be spent on remodeling. But, although that figure is an impressive one, it breaks down to only a little more than $200 per American home. That's a most inadequate investment for any type of important remodel, repair or improvement project. One alarming result of the generally inadequate home improvement expenditures by the average home owner is the loss of many thousands of housing units each year from our housing inventory as older homes deteriorate.

Considering that the housing needs of only 1 in 25 families is satisfied by new home construction, with the other 96 per cent of our population either remaining in or moving into existing homes, the importance of the home improvement industry to the continuance of the high American standard of living is great. The National Home Improvement Council has taken the lead in urging that more money be made available to home owners who want to fix up their dwellings. The Council has also suggested that it would be appropriate for the government to extend investment tax credit to the home owner for maintaining, repairing and improving his home. Whether these recommendations can be achieved or not, the American breadwinner owes it to himself, his family, and his neighbors to bring his house up to the highest living standards possible.

Cancer 'Epidemic' Laid to Smoking

WASHINGTON — The nation's top advisory panel on cancer says an "enormous man-made epidemic" of lung cancer has hit the country as a result of cigarette smoking.

The National Advisory Cancer Council said in a report to the U.S. Public Health Service that "more active steps" are strongly recommended to bring the epidemic to public attention.

And, the Council said, lung cancer is largely preventable if smokers would drop their habit.

The Council's report appeared to use somewhat harsher language in its description of smoking's role in producing lung cancer than that of the U.S. Surgeon General on smoking and health in 1964.

"The most striking increase in incidence and mortality," the Council said, "has been that for cancer of the Union Local 600 at Ford Motor Co.'s Rouge plant. Mrs. Rogers is the first woman to be elected to a top position in the huge local.

lung in men, which is ten times what it was 30 years ago.

"In 1966 approximately 42,000 men and 8,000 women will die of lung cancer, a largely preventable disease for which cigarette smoking is largely responsible."

The Anti-Tobacco Center of America has just published a booklet which explains how 88,618 heavy smokers (of whom many are physicians) have stopped smoking without straining their will power. This booklet is available free of charge to smokers. All you need do, to obtain it, is to send your name and address to The Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 912-H 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

This offer is open while the supply of these booklets lasts.

Two separate tea tables were used. One was covered with a gold lace cloth centered with a wrought iron bowl filled with tulips and mums and the other table was covered with a white lace and aqua cloth centered with a gold bowl filled with gold and aqua flowers and gold candles.

Individual tables were centered with geraniums and room decorations included a wishing well and flower cart filled with geraniums. Decorations were done by Mrs. Donald Ness and daughter Kay.

General chairman was Mesdames John Hebert and Luther Barrett. Pouring at the tea tables were Mesdames, Harvey Germanson, Fredric Welch, Charles Hammar and Dorson Owens.

Future activities for the church include a recognition dinner honoring church school teachers and choir members to be held Wednesday, May 10, at 6:30 p. m., sponsored by the Commission of Education under the chairmanship of Mrs. Luther Barrett.

It's best to use the exact ingredients called for in cake recipes; for example, butter and shortening cannot always be successfully switched in these rules. To be on the safe side, when butter is called for in a cake formula, use butter; when shortening is recommended, use shortening.

Escanaba Soldier, Richard Johnson, Killed In Vietnam

Sp. 4 Richard A. Johnson, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson of 321 S. 18th St., became Escanaba's first victim of the Vietnam war when he was killed in action by a Viet Cong booby trap about 5:30 a.m. Sunday.

He was serving with the U. S. Army 9th Division, 47th Infantry.

Sp. 4 Johnson was born Jan. 20, 1947, in Escanaba and was a member of Central Methodist Church. He was a 1965 graduate of Escanaba Area High School and entered the Army in the summer of 1966. He completed basic training in Aug. 1966, at Fort Riley, Kan.

Surviving are his parents; three brothers, Roy J. Jr., of Milwaukee, Randy and Robert at home; three sisters, Mrs. Wayne (Linda) LaFave of Escanaba and Diane and Peggy, at home, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pearson.

The body is being sent to the Anderson Funeral Home where funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Sgt. Herioux is a medic with the 2nd Battalion, 22nd Infantry, 4th Division and is now stationed northwest of Saigon.

He graduated from Escanaba Area High School in 1965, and entered service in January 1966, he received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and further training at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Prior to leaving for action in Vietnam in September he was stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Tell GOP, Ryan Answers School Tax Loss Howl

LANSING (AP) — "Tell the Republicans," suggested the House Democratic minority leader in answer to a protest from James F. O'Neill, Republican State Board of Education member, over the House vote against a state income tax.

O'Neill sent a telegram to Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, asking that Democrats reconsider their vote against the bill. O'Neill said the vote "is costing the state $25 million a month, half of which would go to education."

Ryan said copies of the telegrams should go "to the eight Republican representatives of the Romney action team who voted no on their own program."

"They will be pleased to know that you are charging them with 'voting against quality education,' causing chaos in school districts and 'costing the state $25 million a month,'" Ryan said.

Ryan said the Republican tax program is not equitable. "It is not necessarily the role of the Democrats to rubber stamp every bit of extremism being practiced by the controlling Republicans," he said.

Dinner Meet Like Apalachin In '57 Netted

(Continued from Page 1) Buffalo, reputed gambling lord, Joseph Fino, 52, and Nicholas Fino, 43, brothers from suburban West Seneca, Joseph was identified in 1963 as a section leader in the Buffalo Cosa Nostra. Nicholas has had at least 16 court appearances on gambling charges, police said, and drew a one-year sentence for possession of bookmaking records last year.

Roy Carlisi, 58, of Buffalo, who has been associated with various business ventures in the Buffalo, area, police said.

Police said several of those arrested, including LaDuca and Carlisi, were among 65 men picked up by state police in a raid Nov. 14, 1957, on the Apalachin, N.Y., home of the late Joseph Barbara during an alleged "crime convention."

Investigators said the two meetings had other similarities. In both cases, no weapons were found. Large sums of cash were found, however, as much as $6,000 today.

Police said many of the men tried to pay bail in cash. Under the law concerning "consorting," however, they needed the approval of a judge for their release.

Neil J. Welch, special agent in charge of the FBI in Buffalo, said he had learned of the meeting through underworld sources a few hours before the raid.

Hoffa Lawyers End Trial Bid

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A hearing on James R. Hoffa's fourth bid for a new jury tampering trial ended abruptly this morning after defense lawyers said they could not proceed because of newly discovered evidence.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frank W. Wilson took the new trial motion under advisement after offering the defense an opportunity to present evidence and receiving no response.

The hearing, which marked Hoffa's first appearance here since he was convicted in March, 1964, lasted 45 minutes.

Hoffa's fourth new trial motion charged that the government resorted to wiretapping and eavesdropping during the trial three years ago. It was accompanied by more than 20 affidavits from persons who said they took part in the wiretapping or knew it was under way.

After the defense declined to present evidence this morning, Wilson said, "There is some question whether the affidavits have any legal significance."

He said the court will have to do its homework, before making a decision.

Hoffa sat impassively at the defense table throughout the hearing, looking intently at government and defense lawyers as they argued their motions. He did not consult with his lawyers.

An observer at the proceedings was James Neal of Nashville, former U. S. attorney for Middle Tennessee, who spearheaded Hoffa's prosecution in 1964.

April 15 Hottest Here In History

No one in Escanaba seemed to notice it much, but on Saturday April 15, the temperature was the highest that it has ever been here on that day since the start of weather record keeping about a century ago.

The high temperature on the 15th was 69. It was 5 degrees higher than the previous record set in 1908.

It was also the warmest day in Escanaba since Sept. 19, 1966.

The month's average temperature was 38.6 degrees, which was 0.5 degrees less than normal.

The lowest temperature was 18 degrees on the 11th.

Precipitation for the month was 3.17 inches, which was 0.94 inch more than normal. Snowfall was one inch and the greatest depth of snow on the ground in Escanaba was one inch on the 1st and 7th.

Orbiter 4 Now Circling Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Lunar Orbiter 4, in the desired orbit around the moon, will start Thursday taking pictures of the moon Thursday that are expected to be 10 times sharper than any taken with earth telescopes.

The 600-pound spacecraft, launched Thursday from Cape Kennedy, Fla., swung into the near-perfect orbit Monday after a braking rocket was fired for eight minutes.

The high point of the orbit is what scientists wanted — 3,769 miles above the moon's surface. The low point is 1,677 miles — just three miles off the predicted 1,684 miles.

Orbiter 4 is circling the moon roughly from pole to pole every 12 hours and one minute. Scientists say it will photograph 90 per cent of the surface.

Other Orbiters still are circling the moon and radioing back information, although they are no longer taking pictures.

The Chamber of Commerce today urged local organizations to read carefully any invoice type advertising listings for directory advertising received by mail. A California directory is circulating the Escanaba area with this type of listing, and although the advertising has not been ordered, payment of the listing constitutes a bona fide order for such listing in the directory.

The Chamber said that this should not be confused with directory listing with the R. L. Polk Co., which is now working on a new Escanaba city directory, nor should it be confused with advertising in the yellow pages of the Michigan Bell telephone directory. All such listings originating in California should be referred to the Chamber, the local postal inspector or thrown away, the Chamber suggests.

The Escanaba Planning Commission will meet at 4 p.m. Thursday in the City Hall council chambers.

Three items will be considered, according to the agenda prepared by John Dulek, city engineer-planner. They are: 1, request on House Bill 3729 regarding location of signs along highways; 2, request from city manager for recommendation on sale of city property at southwest corner of U. S. 2 and 41 and near Danforth Rd., and 3, request from city manager for recommendation for consideration of removing 2nd Ave., S., between 25th St. and Morey subdivision from precinct plat No. 5.

The Rock 4-H members will meet at the clubhouse Wednesday, at 7 p.m., for the May meeting.

Nancy Lajjala, Carol Niemela and Sharon Lippens of the West Rock 4-H club won clothing pins for modeling during the recent Marquette County 4-H Achievement program held at Gwinn. Carol and Nancy will model at the U.S. State Fair.

Roger Hull, Meyers Township supervisor, stated the Meyers Township Board would like to have an area representative open a branch office in their township hall to meet with people in the area. Hull and Mrs. Olive Beauchamp were appointed to work out a schedule which will be announced later.

Wallace Ault, electronics technician seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Ault, Sr., left Sunday night for Little Creek, Va., for three weeks training before leaving for Viet Nam.

Ault, a 1966 graduate of Bark River-Harris High School entered service in June of that year. He graduated from electronics school at the Naval Training Base, Great Lakes, Ill., before coming home for a thirty-four day leave.

Mrs. Edward Beauchamp and daughter, Olive, of Wilson, Mrs. Tim Loeffler and Mrs. Lester Johnson of Spaulding were in Norway, Friday to attend funeral services for Walter Brisson.

Mesdames Louis Kleiman, Dan Levesque, Joseph Gaudreau, Edith Poisson and J. R. Nelson of St. George Rosary Society were at Pinecrest Medical Care Facilities in Powers Thursday afternoon to assist with the games program for the patients.

The Delta District Practical Nurses will not meet in May. The next meeting will be at the regular time in June.

GM Recalls 8,551 Trucks

DETROIT (AP) — Two General Motors truck divisions Monday recalled 8,551 medium and heavy duty trucks to check and modify tie-rod connections.

GMC Truck and Coach Div and the Chevrolet Motor Division have notified owners of the vehicles to return them to dealers to insure that the nut holding the steering tie-rod and arm is fastened properly.

The additional steps are being taken to guard against tie-rod ends becoming disconnected from the tie-rod arms and possible loss of steering control, GM said.

House Approves Cooperation Bill For Local Units

LANSING (AP) — The House approved Monday a three-bill package requested by Gov. George Romney and designed to modernize local government by allowing more cooperation among cities, counties and villages.

The package, which now goes to the Senate, provides:

—Local units, such as cities, villages, townships and school districts, may join to establish councils to study and define common problems, do long-range planning and make non-binding recommendations to the units it represents.

—Unless forbidden by law, local units may by "interlocal agreements" contract to exercise jointly powers which they now may exercise separately, including charging rates, rents and fees, making and enforcing rules, entering contracts, incurring debts, holding property, and acquiring facilities.

—Political subdivisions may transfer duties and functions among themselves with the consent of the local governing bodies involved.

Romney's special message to the Legislature on urban affairs last March asked for all three measures as means of modernizing local government.

The transfer-of-functions bill, Romney said, "could lead to the elimination of duplication of governmental services."

"Too frequently," he added, "a number of local governments provide the same services within an area which could be performed more efficiently and even economically by one government for all governments in that area."

The councils of government, Romney said, would be most valuable in the state's metropolitan areas.

"Public and private officials in the Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids metropolitan areas have already expressed support for this approach to interlocal cooperation," he said.

The "interlocal agreements" bill allows local units to contract with Canadian provinces and with the state as well as with each other.

State Valuation Up $1.5 Billions

LANSING (AP) — The preliminary state equalized valuation of Michigan's 83 counties is set at $29.89 billion by the State Tax Commission, some $1.5 billion more than last year.

Edward Kane, executive secretary of the State Tax Assessment Division, said the commission will hold a hearing at Lansing May 22 for any counties desiring to protest their valuation.

Kane said he has not yet heard of any counties planning a protest.

The state equalized valuation serves as the basis for all local property taxes. It also is used by the Legislature in figuring distribution of special aid to financially distressed school districts.

Five counties were listed with valuations topping the billion dollar mark. Wayne was given a valuation of $9.5 billion, Oakland $3.03 billion, Macomb $1.94 billion, Genesee $1.67 billion and Kent $1.37 billion.

Smallest valuation was $9.15 million for Keweenaw County.

Four State Men Die In Vietnam WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Michigan men died in action in Vietnam and a fourth died of wounds received earlier, the Pentagon announced Monday.

Killed were Army Pfc. William E. McGinnis II, husband of Mrs. Betty J. McGinnis of Ferrysburg; Navy Hospital Corpsman 3-C Kurt C. Edie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo W. Edie of Port Huron; Marine Lance Cpl. Donald L. Winkler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Winkler of Marine City.

The department said Marine Cpl. Johnny Blackmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Prince Blackmon of Flint, died of earlier wounds.

Boyd alleged that Morano, a former Connecticut Republican congressman, had used his position as Dodd's assistant in trying to get the Department of Defense to buy from Conetta a surplus of about 85,000 trigger assemblies for the Army's M14 rifle.

Morano said he went off the payroll of Conetta the day he went to work for Dodd in August 1962.

The following month he resigned as a director of the company and this ended his relationship with the company, he said.

Thus, Morano explained, he had no connection with the company when it "requested me to enlist the aid of the senator" to get the Defense Department to buy the surplus trigger assemblies.

20 Years Of Leadership Cited

Gladstone Honors Watson

Ron Watson, owner-publisher and editor of the Delta County Reporter of Gladstone, was honored at a civic dinner in the Gladstone Yacht Club Monday night for his 20 years of community leadership.

Alcott P. Erickson was toastmaster, Wallace Cameron headed the committee on arrangements and led the singing and Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, was the speaker. The gathering of more than 130 persons taxed the club's dining capacity.

With Mr. and Mrs. Watson to share the honors which the community gave to them for two decades of devoted, hard work for civic betterment were their six children: Mrs. Marianne Sutter of Marquette, mother of four and a student at Northern Michigan University; Janice Watson, a teacher at Inkster; Roberta Watson, a teacher at Auburn Heights near Pontiac; Thomas Watson, who'll be a senior at the University of Michigan next fall; John Watson, a Gladstone High School sophomore, and Judy Watson, an eighth grader who played a horn solo as a feature of the program.

Unusual For Editor
Robert Hupy presented Watson with a traveling case filled with goodies as an expression of the community's esteem, and Don Pavloski, speaking for fellow employees of the Reporter, presented Watson with a jacket.

Roger Williams of the Menominee Herald-Leader, and David Rood of Manistique Pioneer-Tribune were among journalistic colleges honoring the Watsons, and Cameron read many letters from other colleagues. Merle Fretz, publisher of the Newberry News, wrote that it was most unusual for an editor to get a free meal, much less a public accolade, and he congratulated both Watson and Gladstone on such a happy association.

Watson is vice president of the Michigan Weekly Newspapers Association and has been a director of the Michigan Press Association and a president of the U. P. Weekly Newspapers, Inc.

Student Praise
Erickson said that the dinner "was not a Rotary, nor Lions event, but a community event to thank Ron for his many achievements in the community. He has had a lot to do with changing the pace here. Things are looking up and Ron can take credit because he's been working behind the scenes." Linda Rockberg and Richard Holmberg represented the Gladstone High School Student Council and she expressed its gratitude to Watson for his civic leadership and aid to education.

Worth told about the development of American newspapers and said they represented a separate point of view in public comment and controversy; that they represent the public view, as opposed to individual interest or group interest. "Their proper role is not the quest of popularity," said Worth "but enlightenment and guidance and Ron has served this role well in Gladstone."

Turned The Tide

"He has been active in a period which saw the fortunes of the community touch bottom, but he worked hard to turn the tide and now it has turned. He headed the Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Commission in the lean years. Now the city is on the upturn and there can be no question that Ron made a big contribution to the coming of Eaton Yale & Towne to Gladstone, because he helped make the community the kind of place they'd like to have one of their operations."

Worth told of the change in Upper Peninsula newspapers. "Every issue of most of them was full of libel in the old days," said Worth. "They are much more helpful to the cause of community development today, but they have lost some of their color."

As examples he cited the Menominee Democrat's comment that "While Marinette gets its water through a filter, Menominee people will continue to strain theirs through their teeth."

Hopes For More
And "Miss Caroline Clifford, a teacher at the Merryman

School, passed away last night, poisoned by eating salads at the Presbyterian Church supper."

Responding to the commendation Watson said: "It's pretty wonderful. It was a fortunate day that I made up my mind to come to Gladstone. The town's been wonderfully good to me and I feel that I have a wonderful lot of friends here. I thank you all. I have had the wonderful experience for 20 years of doing and trying and working with wonderful people. We've accomplished a few things from time to time and I hope it goes on for another 20 years."

Sharp Lawn Mower Blades Will Prevent Brown Lawn

There is a condition of brownness in lawns that is not caused by insects, fungus or lack of fertilizer.

In this state of affairs, close examination shows the blades of grass are brown at their tips, but from a distance the whole lawn looks brown.

The condition is caused by a dull lawn mower blade which chews the grass instead of cutting it. With a file, a good cutting edge can be restored to the blade of a rotary mower. Filing the blades of a reel mower is a little trickier. There are patented devices on the market that hold a small file blade at the proper angle.

The blade on a rotary mower also suffers rough edges caused by hitting rocks and twigs at high speeds. These can be filed away, but check the blade for balance as you work.

Ideally, your mower should never run over a twig or a stone. Hitting one, especially with a rotary mower, turns the mower into a dangerous weapon. A stone can be hurled at high speed and injure anyone in the path.

For safety's sake, follow certain procedures when running a power mower. Police the lawn carefully before starting. You will find not only stones and branches, but toys and other debris. A scrap of paper may not be dangerous, but when shredded and scattered it makes quite a mess.

Stationary objects—such as pipes and stakes—should be marked so that you don't run into them. Covering them with a cardboard box is an easy way to do this.

Avoid mowing over gravel. If you must mow close to a gravel drive, keep the mower on the grass and trim the remaining strip by hand.

Stand to one side with your feet clear when you start the mower. Keep one hand on the mower to keep from pulling it toward you. If you own a self-propelled mower, take it out of gear before starting.

Learn all the controls on your mower and be able to handle them quickly. In case of an emergency, you should be able to stop the motor instantly.

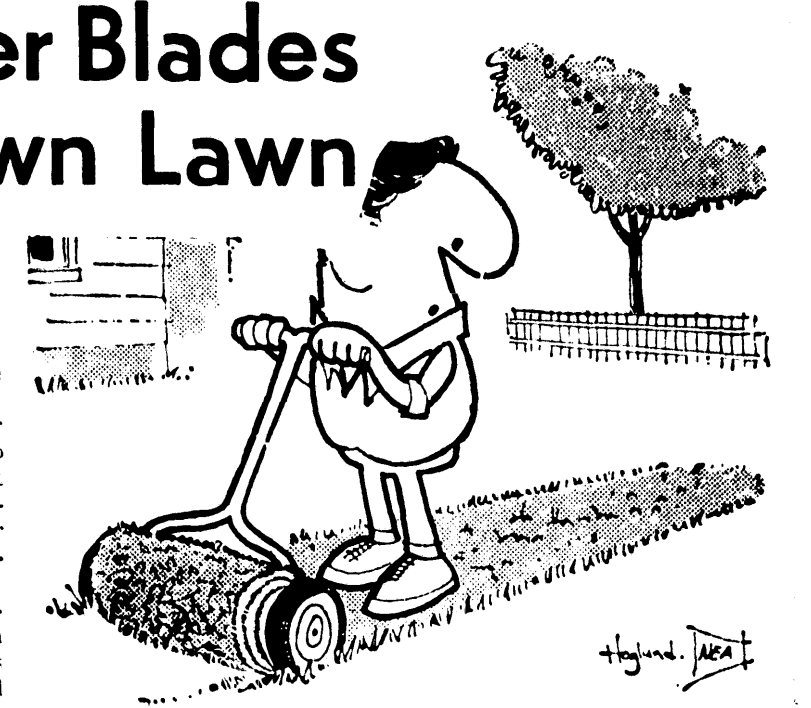

Keep in step. Don't let your mower get ahead of you. Do not run with a mower. Do not cut up and down a slope. Instead, cut across. The mower could roll back on you, otherwise.

Keep the area clear of children and pets. It only takes a second for a child to run across your path. Do not let a child walk parallel with you on the side of the discharge chute.

If the mower should jam, wait until the blade comes to a complete halt, shut off the motor and disconnect the spark plug. Then remove the obstruction.

If you have an electric mower, remember that the blade spins for a time after the motor is off.

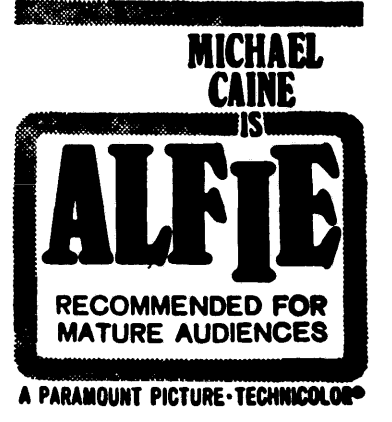

If you have to tip the mower to examine it, make certain that you do not tip it in a direction which will cause gasoline to spill out.

A dull lawnmower will turn your lawn brown.

VINCE LOMBARDI, coach of the Green Bay Packers, is awarded the Insignis Medal by his Alma mater, Fordham University, in New York Monday. Making the presentation is the Rev. Leo McLaughlin, president of the university. (AP Wirephoto)

Laud Vince At Fordham

NEW YORK (AP) — Vince Lombardi was back at Fordham, gulping and telling 600 cheering undergraduates he was overwhelmed at being awarded the university's Insignis Medal. "I've been trying to swallow this lump in my throat all morning," said the man who bristles and barks commands as the coach of the Green Bay Packers. "I usually don't get nervous but I am nervous today."

"This is supposed to be an award for outstanding achievement as a teacher. I know of no qualification of mine to be included among so many distinguished people (previous recipients included Francis Cardinal Spellman, Nobel Prize-winning physicist Dr. Victor Hess and Peruvian statesman Victor Belandier)."

"I must give the credit to my father and mother; my wife and children. Fordham, which gave me a chance through football; St. Cecilia's, a high school in Englewood, N.J., where he first taught and coached; Red Blaik at West Point, the finest football teacher, the Mara family of the New York football Giants, and Green Bay."

The 600 students who had given him a rousing ovation listened while he spoke of an intangible thing called "spirit."

"Cardinal Spellman once told me I had put the Fordham spirit in Green Bay," said Lombardi. "Just what is spirit? Every year I try to think of a new word for it...mental toughness, or whatever you want."

"Last winter at the Super Bowl I called it something that I have been sorry about ever since. When those tough sports writers asked me what made the Packers click, I said 'love.' Now, you fellows know what kind of 'love' I meant. It was the kind that means loyalty, teamwork, respecting the dignity of another, spartanism with sacrifices. Heart power not hate power.

"When we lose this esprit de corps Fordham will no longer be Fordham and Green Bay no longer will be Green Bay."

Listeners who know him only as the hard-to-crack stone face of the football locker room or the stern taskmaster on the field were given a rare insight into this complex 53-year-old man.

A few minutes earlier, Lombardi had been fielding questions in an open news conference, telling everybody that Jim Taylor, the veteran fullback who played out his option and became a free agent May 1, still would be welcome at Green Bay.

"The matter is unresolved," he said, fixing his interrogator with a stare. "It is up to Jimmy to make his decision. You ask if it's money alone? I don't know. Jimmy doesn't talk much. He never told me what he wants. We have made the same offer as last year."

On the Kansas City Chiefs, champions of the American Football League, Lombardi had the same comments he made on that January afternoon after his Packers had beaten the Chiefs in the Super Bowl.

"I still think Kansas City did not compare with the top teams in the NFL because they do not play in the same competition. They have fine football players but not enough of them."

The site of the next Super Bowl? "I think it would be a good thing to move it around."

"Will Green Bay win again?" "Green Bay will have a very representative team."

"Will the pro merger work?" "Eventually, yes. There still are some things to be worked out, like television."

Farrell Unhappy

HOUSTON (AP) — Fun-loving Dick Farrell is returning to the scene of some of his biggest thrills — on the field and off.

The veteran right-handed reliever was sent to the Philadelphia Phillies by the Houston Astros Monday in a straight cash transaction, some estimates placing the figure as high as $75,000.

It's a return home for Farrell, 33, who signed with the Phillies in 1953 and was 10-2 for them in 1957 before being dealt to the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1961.

Farrell was involved in one of two deals by the Houston Astros Monday. The other sent catcher Bill Heath, who hit .201 in 55 games last year, to the Detroit Tigers' Toledo farm club in the International League for cash and a minor league player to be named before Oct. 2.

You don't expect a vet like Farrell to take a change in uniforms too hard, but he did.

"I didn't want to go any place — and not back to Philly," he said. "I've got a home in Houston. I've been here six years, and made my home here six years. I knew something was going on, but when it happens you feel empty."

Farrell came to Houston in the National League expansion draft after the 1961 season. With his departure, only two original Colt 45s remain — infielders Bob Aspromonte and Bob Lillis.

Farrell repaid the Astros by winning more games (53) than any other pitcher in Houston big league history and by being the club's lone All-Star representative for three years.

For those years, Farrell was 33-64 and he takes a 1-0 record with a 4.50 earned run average with him to the Phils.

Farrell was reminded that the Phils are having their troubles with Dick Groat and Bill White injured.

He grinned and said, "I'll be a big infatuation for them when I get there. I'll key them up."

Sport Shorties

Both Chicago and Montreal picked on the Detroit Red Wings during the recent hockey season. The Black Hawks and Canadiens both won 10 of 14 league games from Detroit.

Phil Goyette, playing in all 70 league games, led the New York Rangers in scoring last season with 12 goals and 49 assists for 61 points.

Bold Belcher, winner of four $100,000 stakes races in the United States during 1966, stands at stud for $12,500 at Gainesway Farm in Lexington, Ky.

Pitching coach Early (Gus) Wynn of the Minnesota Twins says he didn't use a spitball because "my knuckler was better."

Edward Kiyama of Honolulu was one of 1,500 plus football coaches at this spring's National Football Clinic in Atlantic City, N.J.

Norm Ullman led the Detroit Red Wings in scoring last season with 26 goals and 44 assists for 70 points, third best figure in the National Hockey League.

Tigers Invade Indian Teepee

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, their American League lead fattened by victories over the preseason favorites, take on Cleveland, a notch out of the cellar, in opening a two-day, two-game stand today.

Manager Mayo Smith said the Tigers would start Denny McLain, last year's 20-game winner who has had trouble getting his right arm untracked so far this season. McLain is 2-3.

The Indians were expected to start with big Sam McDowell who is 2-0.

Detroit rested Monday after taking a three-game sweep from the defending world champion Baltimore Orioles, who were paired with Minnesota and Detroit as preseason pennant choices.

The Tigers have won six straight from Baltimore and have grabbed two other triumphs in a series against the Twins.

Mighty Slugger Loops Blooper, Senators Win

By The Associated Press

Young Tim Lullen, who left a legend in Saskatchewan with two mighty swings, has left his marks on Minnesota with one feeble flick of the wrists.

Cullen, Washington's rookie second baseman, delivered the key hit — a bloop double into short left field — during a six-run seventh-inning salvo that gave the surprising Senators a 7-4 victory over the Minnesota Twins Monday night.

"They should wipe the blood off the ball," the 24-year-old Californian said of his looping hit that sent two runs across the plate, giving the Senators a 5-3 lead en route to their eighth victory in the last 10 games.

"I'd have to say that's my biggest hit in the majors," added Cullen, who blasted two grand-slam homers in one inning five years ago while playing semipro ball in Saskatoon, Sask. "It was a good pitch — a fast ball high and tight. I was looking for it, but I didn't get around on it. I think I've got 'lozy hands.'"

Lazy hands or not, Cullen has stroked eight hits in 18 at-bats for a .44 mark while sharing second base with Bernie Allen and Bob Saverine during the Senators' climb to third place in the American League.

In Monday night's only other AL game, the California Angels edged the New York Yankees 3-2 on Rick Reichardt's tie-breaking fly in the seventh inning.

St. Louis nipped Pittsburgh 6-5 in 10 innings, Los Angeles topped Houston 4-2 and San Francisco mauled the Chicago Cubs 9-2 in National League play.

Washington trailed the Twins 3-1 when Frank Howard's single triggered the seventh inning uprising. Cap Peterson's double knocked out Minnesota starter Jim Ollom and reliever Al Worthington walked Paul Casanova before yielding a tying two-run single by pinch hitter Jim King.

Cullen's two-run double off Jim Merritt, Hank Allen's sacrifice fly and a run-scoring error by shortstop Zoilo Versalles completed the rally.

"We've had some timely hitting, but tonight is the first time we've really busted out," said Senators pilot Gil Hodges. "The fellows are playing the kind of baseball they're capable of playing. They are believing in themselves and that they can do the job."

California snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning when Jim Fregosi, Jimmie Hall and Reichardt drilled singles off Yankee reliever Hal Reniff.

Hall's first-inning homer off starter Fred Talbot and a run-scoring single by Tom Satriano in the fourth gave the Angels a 2-1 edge, but New York pulled even in the fifth when Charlie Smith doubled and scored on a single by John Kennedy.

Talbot homered off California starter Nick Willhite in the third.

Maris Destroying Homerun Image With Base Hits In Card Uniform

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris, who once earned his Ph. D. in home run hitting, has started the learning process all over and now is one step closer to earning a promotion to first grade.

Maris, inserted into the St. Louis line-up as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning Monday night, rapped a run-scoring double with two out in the 10th inning, climaxing a three-run rally and giving the Cardinals a 6-5 victory over Pittsburgh.

It was one of the biggest of the 17 hits Maris has had this season, his first in the National League after 10 years in the American.

"This is like starting kindergarten all over again," the 32-year-old slugger said, thinking of everything he would have to learn about the new league after the New York Yankees traded him to St. Louis.

And as long as he was starting over again, Maris decided he'd like to do things differently.

"Maybe I'll destroy that home run image," said the man who experienced virtually nothing but trouble after hitting 61 homers in 1961. "All I want are base hits. I've got some good hitters like Orlando Cepeda, Tim McCarver and Mike Shannon behind me."

The left-hander hasn't hit any homers this season, but five doubles and one triple help make up his .270 batting average.

And he was right about the hitters he mentioned. Cepeda's single helped the Monday night game 3-3 in the ninth, and Shannon and McCarver each singled across a run before Maris delivered his clutch double.

In other NL games, San Francisco whipped Chicago 9-2 and Los Angeles topped Houston 4-2.

In the American League, Washington defeated Minnesota 7-4 and California nipped New York 3-2.

The other athletes back this spring who won their events last year are Kim Peterson of Trenary in the high jump, Clayton Hill of Cooks in the half mile, Tom Novak of Rapid River and Felix Sackel of Bark River in the 440 and Art Miller of Cooks in the mile.

Several conference athletes have turned in outstanding performances in tuneup meets this spring.

Wally Sparks of Perkins has won 100 and 220 yard dashes while Sackel and Jim Seppanen of Eben have won quarter mile events.

Frank Leach of Perkins is one of the top half milers in Class D and teammate Gary Simonsen is a strong miler. Other Perkins standouts include Paul McNutt in the hurdles and Wayne Sharkey in the shot put. Eben's Lehtomaki and Benson have turned in winning performances in the pole vault and two mile run.

Jim Lippens of Rock fired the shot over 43 feet in an early meet.

Former coach Greg Mulleavy scouts for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Besides Mildenberger-Spencer, these would pit former champion Floyd Patterson against Oscar Bonavena of Argentina; unbeaten young contender Joe Frazier against George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion; and Ernie Terrell, former WBA champ, against Jimmy Ellis, a former sparring partner of Clay.

"It's a monumental task to put all the elements together," said Malitz. "But we hope we can do it. We sent out formal contracts today."

Mildenberger's manager, Wolfgang Mueller, said contracts for the match with Spencer had been signed and details would be settled later in the week.

Spencer's manager, Willie Ketchum, said he liked the tournament idea but complained there were too many fighters involved.

Terrell's camp also came out in favor of the tournament and said the big fighter's left eye, injured in his unsuccessful title fight with Clay in February, had healed. Terrell will hold a public workout here Tuesday.

At Bolan, one of Patterson's advisers, said the former champion would make up his mind about the tournament after his fight with Jerry Quarry scheduled for Los Angeles July 9.

Clay Makes Fight Plans To Finance Court Battle

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Under indictment as a draft dodger, stripped by domestic boxing groups of his world heavyweight title, a laughing, confident Cassius Clay today planned bouts abroad to finance his court fight against Selective Service.

Although no contract for a foreign match has been signed, Clay is known to be considering at least three, all against old opponents.

He may fight George Chuvalo in Montreal before Expo '67 is over, Floyd Patterson in Tokyo within the next two months or Karl Mildenberger in Stockholm before the summer is out.

Clay was indicted Monday by a federal grand jury in Houston, the adopted hometown where he was called as a draftee April 28, but refused to take the oath, explaining that he was Muslim minister Muhammad Ali and, as a man of the cloth, exempt from military duty.

The government asked U. S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally to order Clay to surrender his passport, but one of Clay's lawyers, Hayden Covington of New York, argued that this would be taking the fighter's livelihood away.

Covington told Connally in a brief hearing on bond terms that the influential New York State Athletic Commission, the World Boxing Association and other state boxing commissions have taken Clay's right to fight away.

The lawyer said that these actions would be fought separately, but that Clay badly needs overseas work as a boxer in order to pay his legal bills.

"While he has had a tremendous income, he is far from a man of means," Covington said. "The record in this case is as big as an anti-trust record. This entails tremendous expense to the defendant."

Clay, dressed in a well-tailored gray suit and a blue polka-dot tie, yawned intermittently as Covington recited the fighter's financial obligations, including a $1,200 monthly alimony payment.

Clearly impatient with the arguments, Connally interrupted Covington to say that Clay could keep the passport and would be free to travel through the United States on Muslim duties, but that he would have to request court permission for any trip abroad.

Connally set bond at $5,000, $500 of that in cash, and Clay was photographed, fingerprinted and freed in the custody of his Houston lawyer, Quinlan Hodges.

Clay was grim through most of the proceedings.

Before the judge, he murmured "yes, sir" to questions from the bench and a barely audible "not guilty" to the charge of draft dodging.

Terese Kennedy Tournay Winner

GLADSTONE—Terese Kennedy took top honors in the Gladstone Women's annual sweeper tournament with a 792 handicap series.

Lois Norkooli's 753 without handicap was high for the tourney.

Topping the field of 129 leggers, following Kennedy, were Ingrid Menard 787, Bernadette Verhaghe 777, Joan Oathout and Lois Norkooli 789, Irene Yursa 756, Margaret Long 749, Terry Holm 746, Marilyn Olson and Nellie Salami 733.

Plan Boxing Tourney For New Titlist

NEW YORK (AP) — Plans are moving rapidly ahead to pick a successor to heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, who now faces the fight of his life, one that figures to last considerably longer than 15 rounds.

As Clay was formally charged with a violation of the Selective Service Act Monday for having refused to be inducted into the Army, the first bout in an elimination tournament to determine the new champion was tentatively set.

The World Boxing Association and New York Athletic Commission stripped Clay of the title after he defied the Army.

Karl Mildenberger, the European champion who was beaten by Clay in a 15-round decision last September, will fight Thad Spencer, the No. 7 challenger, in Germany sometime in September, according to promoter Mike Malitz.

Malitz said a new company, Sports Action, Inc., had been formed to run the elimination tournament of eight boxers.

The group may involve the American Broadcasting Co., which wants to televise some of the fights, and the Houston Astrodome, where the semifinal and the final bouts may be held. Others in the group are Bob Arum, a promoter, and Jimmy Brown, ex-pro football star.

Malitz said representatives of all eight fighters met with him here Tuesday and that pairings were set up for the first four bouts.

Besides Mildenberger-Spencer, these would pit former champion Floyd Patterson against Oscar Bonavena of Argentina; unbeaten young contender Joe Frazier against George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion; and Ernie Terrell, former WBA champ, against Jimmy Ellis, a former sparring partner of Clay.

"It's a monumental task to put all the elements together," said Malitz. "But we hope we can do it. We sent out formal contracts today."

John Vardigan, junior pole vaulter on the Escanaba team, owns the best performance in the Upper Peninsula this season. Vardigan reached 11 feet 8 inches to win his specialty in the Great Northern Conference meet here last week. That's two inches better than the next best performance in the U. P. this spring.

Two other Eskimo athletes are tops in the Peninsula thus far this year. Jim Boyle's fabulous performance in the GNC meet gave him the season's best time in the high hurdles of 15-flat and the lows, 20.4. Paul Miller is the only U. P. high jumper to reach 6 feet this year and his 6-2 effort last week is close to the U. P. mark of 6-3 1/2.

Walt Veldman, former Holy Name athlete, scored 30 points to lead his Marquette team to a 72-63 victory over the Lions in the finals of the Marquette Class B City basketball tournament. Raish Oil won the Class A title by trimming Dahle Oil, 64-41, in the finals.

Dick Schomer, veteran Marinette bantamweight, will see action with the Wisconsin Golden Gloves boxing team against a squad from Tennessee at the Milwaukee Arena May 20. Schomer is the Wisconsin state GG open division champion at 119 pounds.

The Porcupine Mountain Conference, composed of seven small schools in the western part of the Peninsula and one in neighboring Wisconsin, will add a new sport to its program next fall. The schools will play a six-game schedule of flag football. The Porky conference already sponsors baseball, basketball, track and volleyball on a varsity level.

Gladstone's Tom Domes continued his standout work in the University of Wisconsin spring football drills over the weekend. Domes was a defensive star in the line and also intercepted an enemy pass as his White team defeated the Cardinals, 16-6, in a scrimmage session at Eau Claire Saturday.

Crystal Falls, defending Upper Peninsula tennis champion and winner of the Land O' Lakes Conference crown two weeks ago, was sidelined in a dual meet by Stambaugh, 5-3. This year's Upper Peninsula prep tennis tournament will be staged at Marquette June 2-3 with all schools competing in a single class. Up to last year, Upper Peninsula schools were divided into classes A-B and C-D in tennis tourney competition.

Nicklaus Looks Ahead To Next Golf Tour Test

HOUSTON (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus, who's having the slowest start of his career on the golf tour this year, plays with one basic philosophy: "If I can't win, I don't care where I finish."

When Nicklaus shoots himself out of contention for victory, which has often been the case this year, his mind switches to the next stop, even though two rounds may remain.

"I start thinking about what I can do to win the next one; how I can improve," he said.

"After all, at the end of the year, it's how many firsts you had that really counts."

"Don't get me wrong, though. I always play as well as I can," Nicklaus explained. "If you don't, you're letting your game slip. All I'm saying is that I play to win. If I don't win, whether I finish fifth or 25th makes no difference."

What has happened to the 27-year-old Columbus, Ohio, miracle man who in less than six years as a professional has won over half a million dollars? All of a sudden, his name barely makes a dent in the weekly official money list.

"I hate to complain, but in golf you have good and bad streaks that come and go," he said. "I'm having a bad streak of putting. . . missing some short putts. I'll come back."

Each of the last four years, Nicklaus has won more than $100,000, peaking in 1965 with $140,752. He has won the Masters three times.

This year, though, he didn't even make the 36-hole cut at the Masters and has pocketed only $14,862 in official money, a third of the way through the 1967 tour.

In his last five outings, he tied for 34th in the Jacksonville Open, 31st at Pensacola, missed the cut at the Masters, tied for fourth in the Tournament of Champions and last week slipped to 37th in the Houston Champions International.

He's not among the top 20 official money winners, but is eighth in total earnings with $36,192.

Want To Start Grid Argument? Irish-Spartan Pot Still Boiling

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Finagle around with the figures a little and you can get another 10-10 tie between Michigan State and Notre Dame in the number of footballers picked by the pros this season.

The 10-all deadlock between the two unbeaten collegiate football giants last fall started a row over ratings that's still boiling.

Although the Irish took the top spot in the Associated Press poll, you can start a good go-around anywhere near East Lansing when you start comparing the Spartans and Notre Dame.

Actually, the count so far shows 10 seniors from Notre Dame and nine from MSU tapped for pro play.

Figures don't lie, but a little figuring can start another hassle.

Around Michigan State, they'll contend that big Bubba Smith, the 290-pound defensive tackle, should count for at least two men.

After all, Bubba was No. 1 in the joint draft, a selection of the Baltimore Colts.

Further, perhaps in the spirit of whimsy, the basketball Baltimore Colts also named Bubba was a draft choice. This was although Bubba played only in pickup games at State and hasn't taken the game seriously since high school in Texas.

But doesn't that make two picks?

Or, to keep the pot boiling, you could argue from another angle.

Nick Eddy, Notre Dame's

Central Splits With Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP) — Jim Bourbeau let a one-hitter slip away and Michigan State rallied for three last-inning runs to nip Central Michigan 4-3 in the first game of a baseball doubleheader Monday.

CMU captured the nightcap 6-2, with Tom Krawczyk blasting a three-run homer.

Bourbeau had allowed only one hit through six innings and, with a 3-1 lead, let MSU load the bases on two singles and a walk in the bottom of the seventh.

After pinchhitter Ken Ewald fanned, Mike Gerhardt drew another walk, forcing in a run. Tom Hummel bunted, going to first on the fielder's choice, which failed to catch the runner at home, tying the score 3-3.

With two out and the bases still full, Rich Harlow lined a Bourbeau offering into left field, scoring Jim Plotts, pinch runner for Gerhardt, with the winning run.

Bourbeau had scored for CMU after tripling in the third inning and his bases loaded single scored two runs in the sixth. In the second game, Hummel homered for the Spartans in the first inning, but Krawczyk's homer in the fifth inning stood up.

CMU is 20-4, MSU is 20-17-1.

Eastern Earns Track Honors

YPSILANTI (AP) — Eastern Michigan, sparked by the blazing Kercheval Patterson, overwhelmed all opposition in the District 23 NAIA track meet Monday.

Patterson won the 100- and 220-yard dashes and ran legs on the winning 440-yard and mile relay teams.

EMU won 10 of 17 events. Eastern Michigan finished with 121 points. Hillsdale had 38, Northern Michigan and Central Michigan 27 each, Ferris State 23 and Spring Arbor 16.

Mikan Confident New Cage League Will Be Success

NEW YORK (AP) — George Mikan, commissioner of the American Basketball Association, is optimistic about the future of his new, 11-team circuit despite the recent acquisition of college All-Americans Jimmy Walker and Bill Bradley by clubs in the rival National Basketball Association.

"We tried for them but they took the NBA," Mikan pointed out. "You have to remember, though, that in football the National Football League had the best draft choices but the American League still came up with a good product."

Walker, former Providence star, was drafted by Indianapolis of the ABA and Detroit of the NBA. He signed a four-year contract for a reported $250,000 with the Pistons. Bradley, the Princeton All-American, came to terms with the New York Knicks of the NBA for an estimated $500,000 over four years.

"Our teams have now signed about 70 players, including free agents and those from the colleges and the NBA," Mikan estimated.

The latest NBA player to move to an ABA team was Erwin Mueller, 6-foot-8 center and forward for the Chicago Bulls. His signing by the New York entry of the fledgling league was announced Monday.

Mueller, who played college ball for the University of San Francisco, averaged 12.7 points for the Bulls in 1966-67, his first season in the NBA.

"We're surprised and disappointed," Dick Klein, owner of the Chicago Bulls, said in Chicago. "We never really had a chance to negotiate with him."

Mikan admitted, "We have had problems with franchises, but we are stabilizing them. We'll go with 11 franchises and our schedule will be released in a few weeks. The season starts Oct. 13."

Pittsburgh, Oakland, New Orleans, Minnesota, Louisville, Houston, Denver, Dallas and Anaheim, Calif. are the other teams in the league.

Mueller was the third NBA player signed by an ABA team. The others were LeRoy Ellis of the Baltimore Bullets and Jim (Bad News) Barnes of Los Angeles Lakers.

Ellis signed with New York and Barnes with Dallas of the ABA. But later Ellis signed again with the Bullets.

"Ellis has signed a valid, legal contract with us," said Mark Binstein, business manager of New York's ABA team. "He must play for us or he will not play ball."

Appleton Will Aid Shop Area

APPLETON, Wis. — An extensive face lifting is underway to make the commercial heart of this city as attractive as the shopping centers on its outskirts.

The idea is to guarantee the commercial future of the city's downtown area which represents more than 12 per cent of the Appleton tax base.

The first phase of the project, a $1 million revamping of College Ave., will be completed by October. Before the total redevelopment of the downtown area is completed in about 1968, over $20 million will have been spent.

Parking Expanded

The downtown area's parking potential will be expanded by then to provide spaces for 7,500 cars.

More than 4,000 spaces are now available but the number is inadequate.

A Detroit firm is nearing completion of a multilevel parking structure which will provide an additional 500 spaces. Other parking areas are planned.

With the planning and construction of new parking structures and the rebuilding of College Ave., underway, the city is now contemplating the more glamorous projects it has on the drawing boards.

One of these plans calls for a civic center to be built in a hilly area on the corner of the business district, now a drab part of the city.

According to preliminary plans, the civic center will contain:

• A new city hall, to cost about $1 million.

• A four story underground parking ramp to cost about $3.5 million.

• A new post office, which the city hopes to get the federal government to build.

Also envisioned for the civic center is an auditorium-convention center, a new library and new quarters for the Appleton school board.

A separate, but somewhat related, project for revitalizing the downtown area is the proposed construction of a new high level Oneida St. bridge across the Fox River. The bridge will cost about $5.5 million. The city hopes to get federal funds to help pay for the structure.

New construction will be planned to encourage shoppers to remain in the downtown area once they have taken advantage of the proposed ample parking facilities.

Bathroom Gets More Attractive More Functional

Gone is the cramped, strictly utilitarian room of yesterday. According to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, the typical bathroom installed 10 years ago had a white tub, lavatory stand and water closet in a 5x7-foot space. Today's bathroom is more like to be 7x8 or 7x10 feet. There's plenty of room for the things women are demanding—twin-bowl vanity lavatories, bigger tubs, bidets and his storage. There's also more room to move around and make cleaning easier.

Manufacturers of bathroom equipment make their products available in a riot of colors and a variety of styles, so the homeowner can plan her bathroom to fit the home's general decor. For this reason, many bathroom designers now refer to their equipment as "bathroom furniture."

If you're planning a new bathroom, it will pay you to visit a plumbing contractor's showroom—not only to see what products are available but allcheapies. Your bathroom equipment gets used more than almost everything else in your home, so it pays to buy the best. Good quality fixtures are more efficient, operate more quietly and are easier to keep clean. The cost differential is modest, when you spread it out over the span of your installment plan.

If the mower runs out of gas while in use, wait to refuel. Do not pour gasoline into a hot mower. One splash of it on hot metal of the housing could start a fire.

Kaiser, 85, Will Never Retire

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Henry J. Kaiser got his first job when he was 13 as a helper in a Utica, N.Y., drygoods store. Today — his 85th birthday — he's still working, running the $2.7-billion industrial complex he founded.

"I'd be lost if I couldn't have the fun of working every day," confides the man whose 190 plants in 33 states and 40 foreign countries employ 90,000 persons and have an annual payroll of $630 million.

When will he retire? "Never," answers Kaiser who still rules the fact that when he entered his 80s he was forced to cut down on 16-hour daily work schedules.

What does he consider his great accomplishment?

"The Kaiser Foundation hospitals and health plan."

"I see the day when no one need die for lack of medical care, as my own mother died in my arms when I was 16 years old."

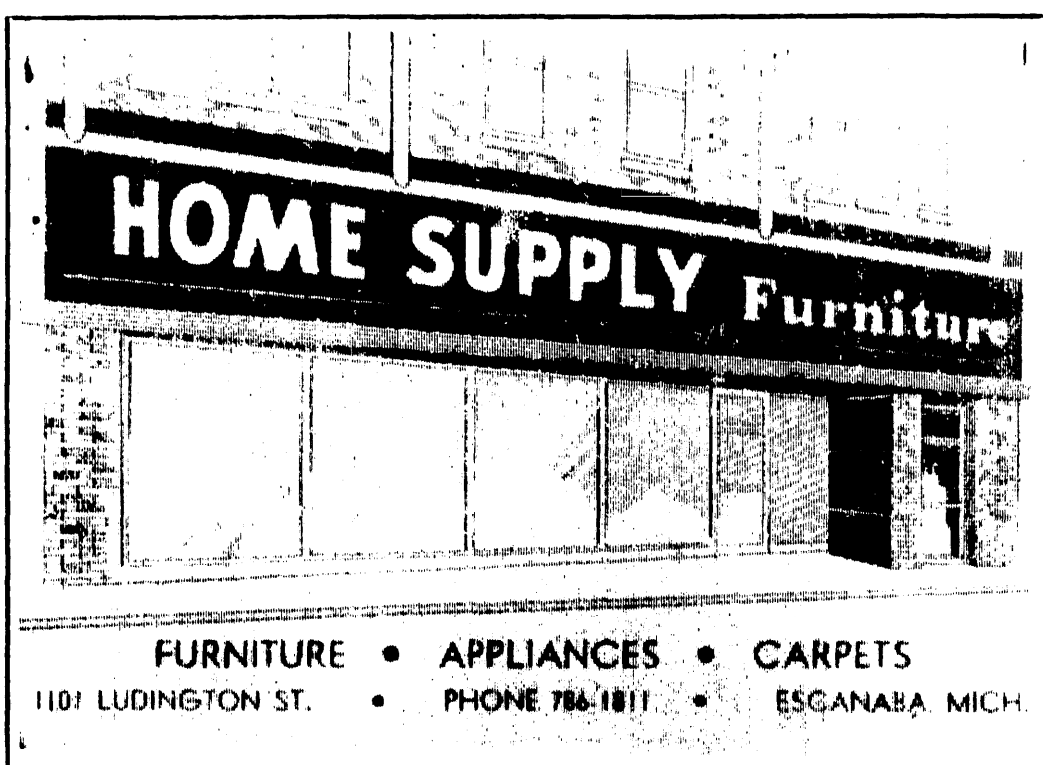

There are 18 Kaiser Foundation hospitals, more than 40 clinics in California, Oregon and Hawaii, and a health plan providing hospital service and care by 1,500 doctors.

By telephone from his office and home in the new community of Hawaii-Kai that he is building, Kaiser keeps in touch with son Edgar, president of Kaiser Industries, and with company managers around the globe.

PENCIL'S ORIGINATOR

The lead pencil owes its origin to Joseph Dixon, American inventor, who was a pioneer in the industrial use of graphite. A printer and lithographer by trade, he began the manufacture of lead pencils as early as 1827 in Marblehead, Mass.

Dearborn Official Ruled A Suicide

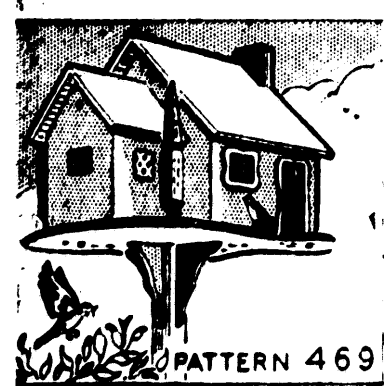

DEARBORN (AP)—Irving M. ImOberst, 54, a Dearborn councilman since 1960, was found dead Monday in his car in a remote part of Romulus Township.

Police ruled the death a suicide.

Sam Buck of Inkster found the car with garden hoses connected to the exhaust pipes and run inside the car, police said. ImOberst, a member of the city's planning commission for 12 years, was married and had six children. Born in Toledo, he was married to Frances Bryant, niece of the late Clara Bryant Ford, wife of the auto pioneer.
